Nottingham 2015 CPISRA World Games Volunteer's Code of Conduct

Nottingham 2015 CPISRA World Games is committed to the highest ideals of sport and expects all volunteers to honour sport and our World Games. All Nottingham 2015 Gamestarter’s volunteers agree to observe the following code:

Equality

Treat everyone equally, support each other and working together to have fun and achieve. Help to make everyone feel welcome and included in the World Games without discrimination, prejudice and bias.

Respect

To respect yourself, respect others, respect the environment which you are in, as well as rules and regulations. Treating others with dignity and how you would wish to be treated, with politeness and understanding.

Inspiration

To act as a positive role model for others, inspiring them to work towards their goals. Equally, for you to seek inspiration from others, learning from other positive role models and looking for positives in any situation.
Determination

Believing in yourself to continue to do the best you can even if things are difficult. Determination is about the journey you go on to push yourself and achieve your dreams. Having the mental strength and the self-discipline to overcome obstacles, commit to your goals and keep working every day to become the very best you can be.

Friendship

Work as part of a team to achieve a shared goal, being approachable and supportive to others where necessary. Using sport a tool to bring people together despite differences, helping to build trust and lasting partnerships.

“Sport is a universal language, building more bridges between people than anything else I can think of.”

Sebastian Coe
